The MaxiFil AK uses a particle and activated-carbon combination. The standard MaxiFil 42m² filter is a separate configuration. H13 entries identify optional filter stages, not direct substitutes for every standard filter.

Order The Right Filter First Time

Send the machine model and serial number plus a photograph of the existing filter label. Include the number of filters required. A matching model name alone does not identify every build or retrofit.

For VacuFil Compact and Twin, match the installed disposable or cleanable configuration. 1090472 filters motor-cooling air; it is not the welding-fume main filter. Central-unit cartridge quantities depend on the installed configuration.
